One benefits partner is all you need.

For over 30 years I've provided benefit consulting services to a diverse cross-section of local and national organizations achieving service and account sales success. Small and medium sized organizations, from nonprofits to service industries to municipalities, have benefited from my knowledge and expertise in employee benefits. For each client my focus is always to maximize savings, minimize administration, and to deliver the highest degree of customer service. I provide comprehensive knowledge of the technical, marketing, administrative, and service aspects of medical benefits, group life, disability plans and dental benefit products, including cafeteria plans, Sec.105 programs, and much more. Along with my experienced and dedicated staff, we assist at each step of the process—communicating benefit goals and educating staff at all levels—including attending employee meetings. Let me show you how to get more employee benefits value. Give me a call and let's set up a time to meet and discuss your employee benefits needs.
